

HEARTPLACE PATIENT PRIVACY NOTICE SUMMARY

Protecting your confidential health information is important to us. Certain federal law referred to as “HIPAA” protects the confidentiality of your health information (generally referred to as “Protected Health Information” or “PHI”), and we take it seriously. This summary of our Notice of Privacy Practices (“Notice” or “Privacy Notice”) has been prepared to provide you with a brief description of certain of the key provisions of the Notice regarding how medical and other personal information about you may be used or disclosed, and how you may obtain access to your information and its disclosure. For a more complete description of our privacy practices under HIPAA, please refer to the attached Notice.

What is Protected Health Information (PHI)?

PHI is information created or received by HeartPlace and transmitted or maintained in written, electronic or any other form, that relates to your past, present or future health condition, the provision of healthcare to you, and/or information about payment for the provision of your healthcare, and, which may identify you or could reasonably be used to identify you.

How may my PHI be used or disclosed?

HeartPlace may use or disclose your PHI to carry out your ‘Treatment’ (provision, coordination or management of your healthcare or related services), ‘Payment’ (obtain payment for your healthcare services, including activities that may be required by your insurer(s) to obtain approval for payment), or for other ‘Health Care Operations’ (other functions that HeartPlace performs in connection with providing health care, i.e., quality assessments, training of medical students, credentialing, auditing and financial reporting). Use or disclosure of your PHI pursuant to the Notice may include electronic transmittal or disclosure.

When might HeartPlace use or disclose my PHI without my authorization?

HeartPlace is not required to obtain your authorization or notify you when it uses or discloses your PHI for your treatment, to obtain payment, or for other health care operations as discussed above. In addition, there are some limited exceptions where the law allows your PHI to be used to promote the Government’s need to ensure a safe and healthy society. In some cases, you may be given an opportunity to agree or object before the use or disclosure of your PHI. In all cases, HeartPlace will make every effort to ensure that it meets necessary prerequisites and will not use or disclose your PHI more than is permitted under the law.

What Are My Rights Under The HIPAA Privacy Standards?

Patients have certain rights under the HIPAA Privacy Standards, subject to certain limitations:

- You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of your PHI by HeartPlace.
- You have the right to request that we communicate with you in a certain way. We make every effort to honor your reasonable requests for confidential communication.
- You have the right to read, review and receive copies of your health information.
- You have the right to request and obtain an accounting of disclosures HeartPlace has made of your PHI.
- You have the right to request an amendment to your PHI. (HeartPlace reserves the right to deny requests to amend PHI. For example, if the information is accurate, or if the information was not created or is not maintained by HeartPlace.)
- You have the right to request a copy of the Privacy Notice (the Privacy Notice is attached for your review).
- You have the right to file a complaint if you believe that HeartPlace has violated your privacy rights or has acted inconsistently with its obligations under the HIPAA Privacy Rules.

HEARTPLACE PRIVACY OFFICER

HeartPlace has procedures in place for receiving and resolving HIPAA-related complaints, and, handling other HIPAA and PHI requests and concerns. Such issues are handled by the HeartPlace Privacy Officer. You may:
